

Our Readers Write: La Jollans speak out about housing bill, trimming palm trees, lack of parking, cannabis billboards, crumbling streets, The Conrad, vaccines and more local topics

"Dear people that want to wreck houses and build apartments ... that is very rude and unkind to people that live here ... this place is already very crowded ... ' reads an illustrated note by Susie, granddaughter of Phil Wise, concerned about any proposals to eliminate 30-foot height limit restrictions."
 (Courtesy)

Readers of La Jolla Light

pinion / Letters to the Editor / Our Readers Write:

The following are Letters to the Editor from recent issues of La Jolla Light as La Jollans speak out on local issues. Letters published in La Jolla Light express views from readers in regard to community issues. To share your thoughts in this public forum, e-mail them with your name and city of residence to editor@lajollalight.com or mail them to La Jolla Light* Editor, 565 Pearl St., Suite 300, La Jolla, CA 92037

ADVERTISING
inRead invented by Teads

Even kids don't like California State Senate Bill 330 (Housing Crisis Act of 2019)

This card (pictured above) was written by my 7-year-old granddaughter after I attempted to explain what effects Senate Bill 330 could have on La Jolla. (The bill could remove height restrictions on new development.) All three of our granddaughters love coming to our home, love the neighborhood, the beach, just about everything about life in The Shores.

Just keep in mind that what she wrote is from the perspective of a 7-year-old. She made the card, on her own, without any help from me. Without any prompting, she came up with the idea of drawing in all the high-rise buildings.

Just thought her card might be of interest to the readers of La Jolla Light.

Phil Wise
